Homecoming: It's A Triumph We're After . . .

Homecoming activities for 1980 took place on October 17, the night of the Oakway game. In a pre-game ceremony, the seven senior players escorted the seven candidates onto the field to await the announcement of the results of the election for Homecoming queen. Climaxing the festivities, Barbara Warren was named queen; Jackie Blanton, runner-up.

After the game, a Cardinal victory, the junior class sponsored a dance in the school gym which provided a festive ending for the Homecoming events.

Homecoming Contestants: Jackie Blanton, Terri Taylor, Denise Ramsey, Barbara Warren, Marilyn Thompson, Tammy Thompson, Tammy Tolleson.

After the pre-game ceremony, first runner-up Jackie Blanton and escort Marvin McDowell leave the field.

Sponsor Johnny Wilkins escorts Tammy Thompson onto the field.

As the band plays, Tammy Tolleson and Larry Belue walk toward centerfield.

Riding through town, Nelson Edwards and Denise Ramsey smile at the spectators.

Waving their pompons, the basketball Cheerleaders add spirit to the afternoon parade.

1981 Homecoming Queen Barbara Warren smiles as she leaves the field with escort, Neal Brackett.

During the pre-game fesitvities, 1980 queen Candy Warren crowns the 1981 winner.

Before the game, contestants await the announcement of the winners.

During the assembly Marylou Thomson and Luci Little introduce the contestants.

Miss Cardinal, . . . A Victory And Laughter

In mid-November the annual staff again sponsored its Miss Cardinal contest. This year twenty girls representing the junior and senior classes competed for the title. The pageant theme, "Come to the Masquerade" was reflected in the music and decoration in the gym. From the six semi-finalists, Jackie Blanton was named queen and Sonya Maybry and Candi Davis, runners- up.

After being crowned, Jackie Blanton takes a tearful, but joyous walk before the crowd.

Appearing in the casual competition, Rita Hamrick smiles as she walks toward the judges.

After the pageant the new queen receives congratulations from well-wishers.

In casual attire the twenty contestants pose for the judges.

Pageant judges, Carolyn Allen, Marguerite Foster and Carl Golden discuss scoring procedures.

Luci Little and Marylou Thomson present a bouquet to Candi Davis.

Anticipating the final decision, the six semi-finalists wait as the judges tally their scores.

1981 Pageant winners: First runner-up, Sonya Maybry; Miss Cardinal, Jackie Blanton; second runner-up, Candi Davis.

During the formal competition, junior Donna Ayers pauses as she turns toward the audience.

Cardinal co-editor, Jody Brown sings pageant theme song, "This Masquerade."

As the pageant begins, Jody Brown and Luci Little prepare to introduce the contestants.

FACULTY

Administrators: Offering Guidance

Typically our school administration provided LHS with leadership and guidance. Whether in their offices, in the halls or on the campus, Mr. Holden and Mr. Summers always tried to improve the academic standards, the student relations and even the physical appearence of our school.

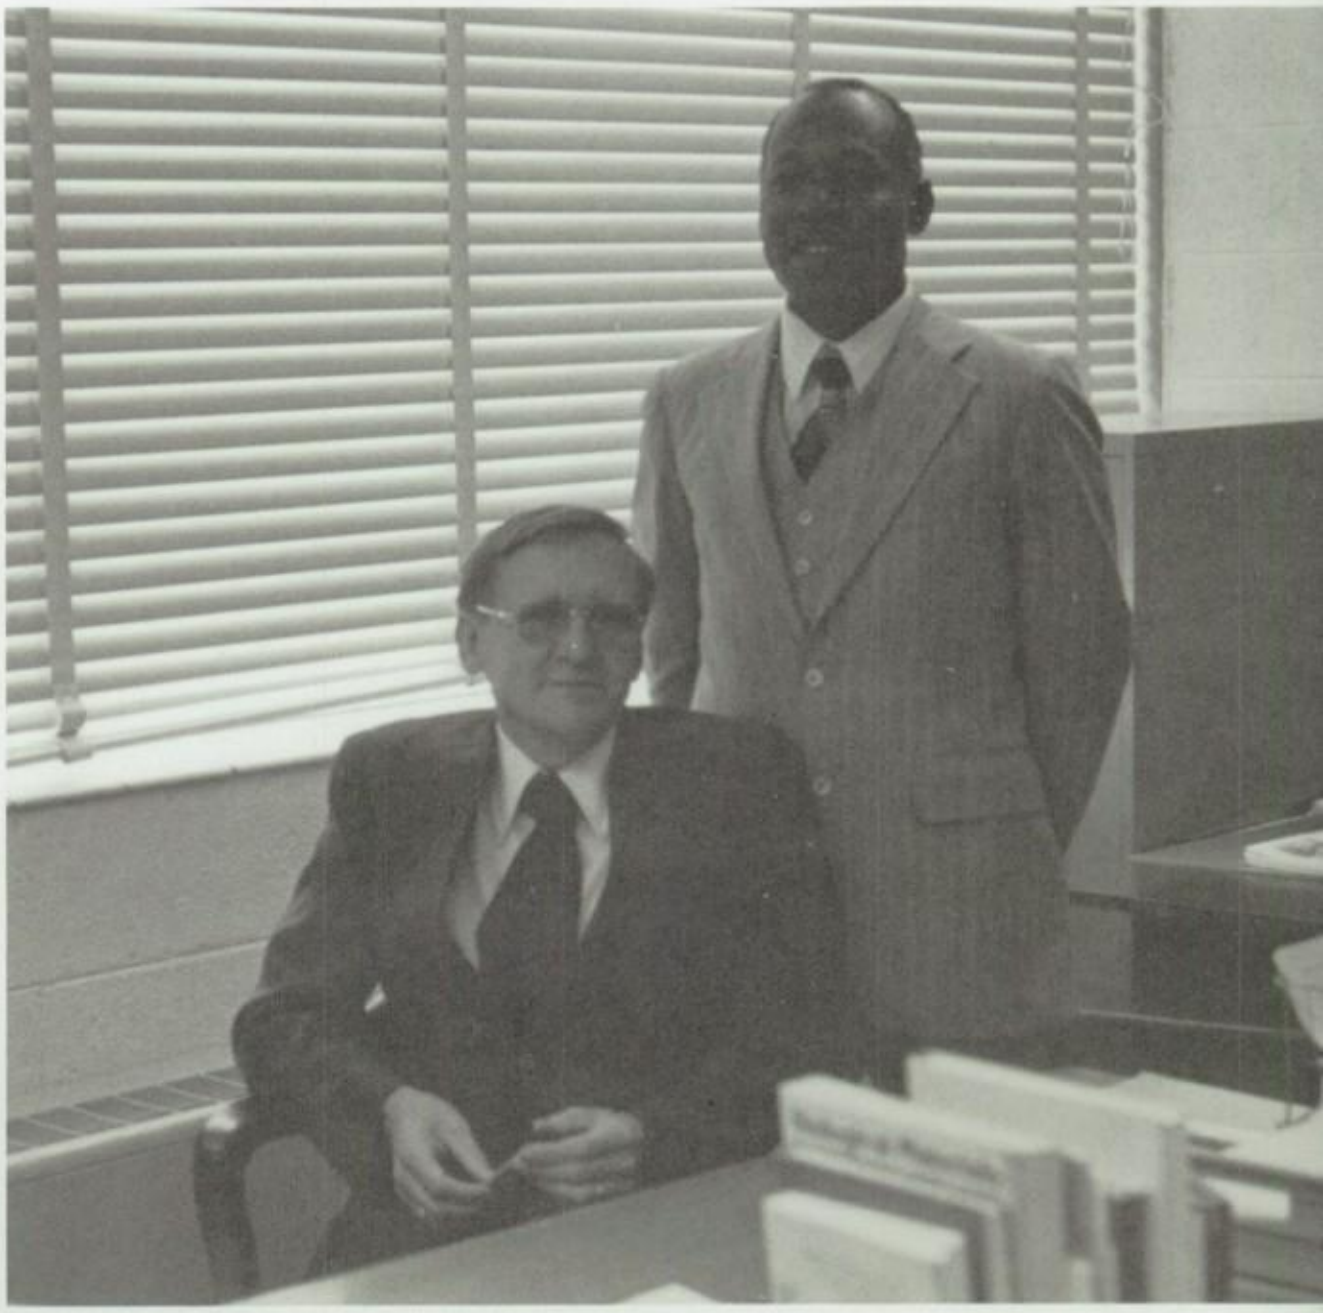
In the office Jerry Rollins checks with Mr. Holden about a district policy.

Administrators: Mr. Edgar Holden, principal; Mr. Johnnie Summers, assistant principal.

Working late, Mr. Summers and Mrs. Thompson arrange detention hall for the week.

On the way to an afternoon reception for visiting dignitaries, Mr. Holden pauses with Governor Riley to listen to the band perform.

Preparing for a busy week, Mr. Summers and Mr. Holden confer about a special schedule.



District: Promoting Progress

Throughout the year the district administrators made the decisions and continued the task of evaluation which promoted quality education for all District One students. Our superintendent and the Board of Trustees were proud of the progress they made in improving every phase of our education from classroom experience to safety in the district transportation program.

Board of Trustees. Seated: Marion Gramling, chairman; Clifford Walden, John Austin, Frank Byrd, Jr. Standing: J. Randy Craig, Albert Jackson, James Petty, John Morrow.

Mr. H.E. Hipp, Superintendent, District One Schools; Mr. Jimmy Littlefield, Administrative Assistant.

Language Arts: Improving Communication

Members of the language arts department helped us expand our communication skills. Beginning with the basics, they encouraged us to read, think and write creatively and correctly. After we had acquired a good foundation in English, Mrs. Pack also helped some of us master the basics of French.

English: Judy Folk, Pat Pack.

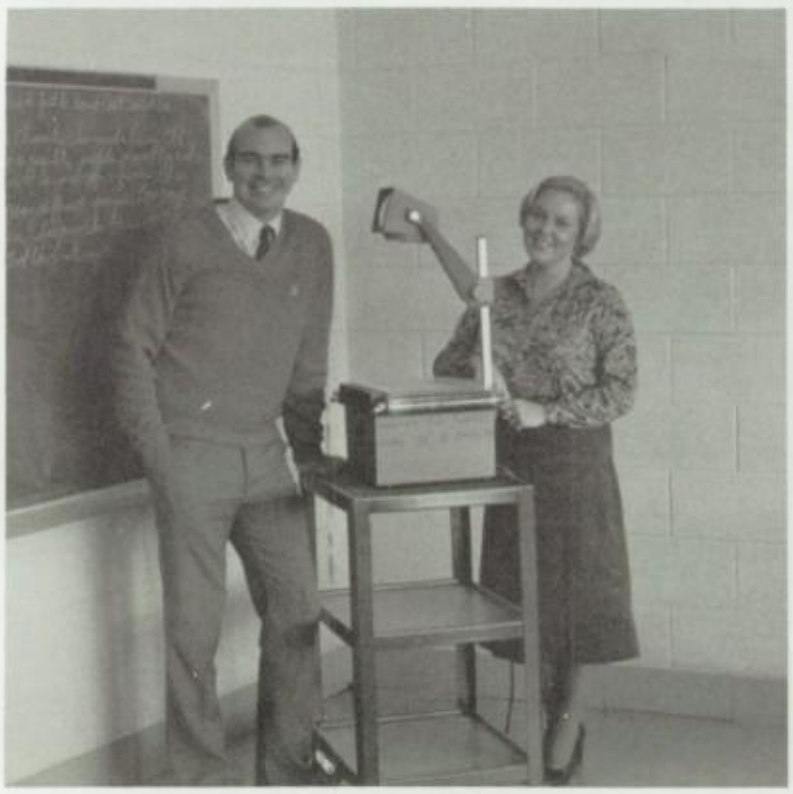
English and Journalism: Catherine Carriker.

English: Mary Ann Chastain.

Resource: Joan Swenson.

Reading: Linda Prince, Rick Cooper.

Resource: Steve Schulte.



Fine Arts: Encouraging Creativity

Our fine arts department had a new member this year as Mr. Sligh joined Mr. Vanderford in the music department. Under their direction the band and chorus continued to grow and improve. In our basic art course, Mrs. Krause continued her efforts to expose us to many different arts and crafts.

Assistant Band Director, Joel Sligh; Director, Gene Vanderford.

Before Thanksgiving, Mr. Sligh rehearses the chorus for an assembly program.

After class Mrs. Krause helps an art student clean up.

Art: Connie Krause.

Aiming for a superior rating, Mr. Vanderford prepares the band for the state contest.

Science: Exploring Unknowns

Exploring scientific theories, our science teachers aroused our curiosity about life and matter. We learned to experiment and to find evidence to prove theories. As we learned, we came to respect logical reasoning and the value of scientific exploration.

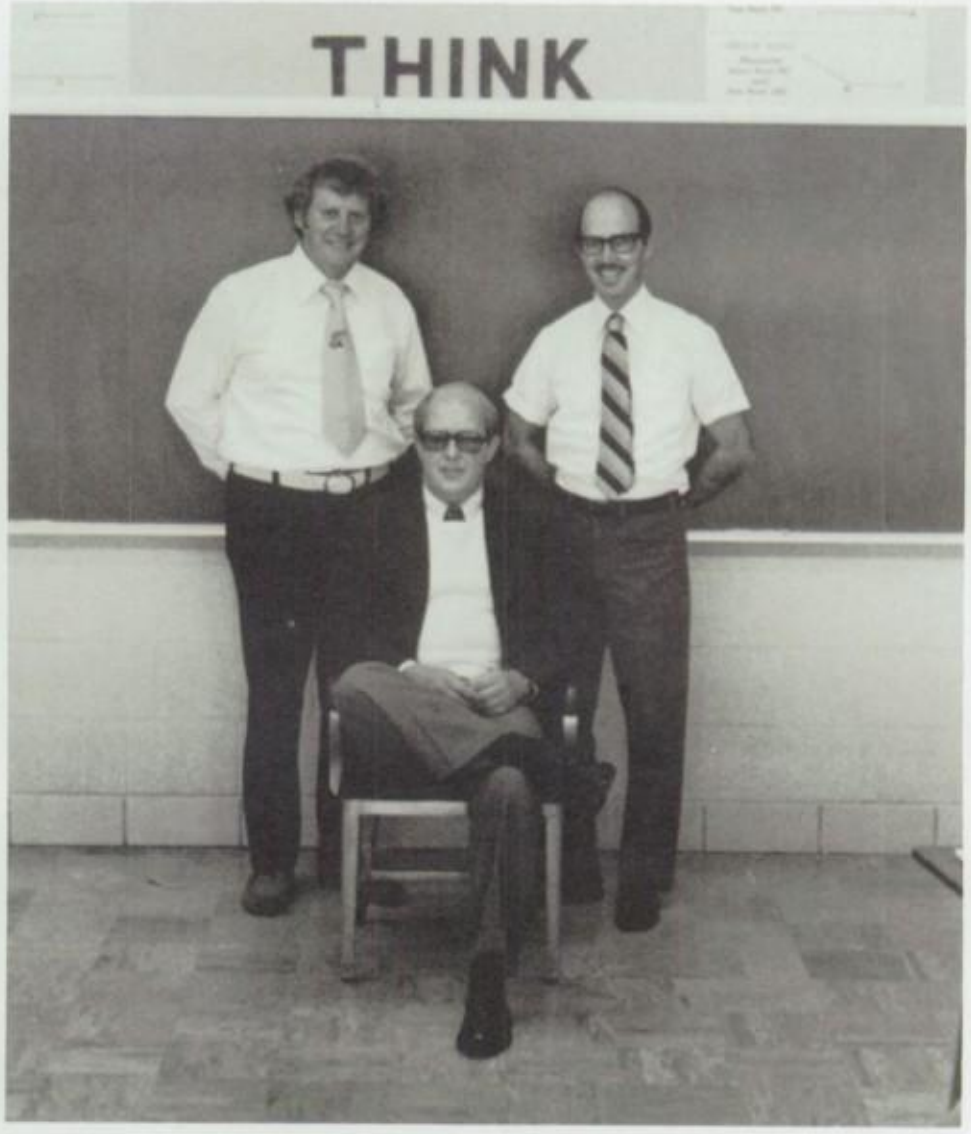
Science: Marvin Beach, Waymon Collins, Marvin Ells.

After the bell, Mr. Beach waits patiently for his physics class to come to order.

Preparing for a lab assignment, Mr. Coley introduces his biology class to the procedure for dissecting frogs.

In the chemistry lab, Mr. Collins helps Scott Owens complete an experiment.

Science: Ron Hicks, Marsha West, Steve Coley.



Math: Solving Problems

In math classes our teachers taught us to reason with numbers. The math department offered courses ranging from basic math to calculus and trigonometry. As we recognized that mathematical ability is a necessity in our complex society, we respected the need to master mathematical skills.

Math: Marsha West, Martha Walker.

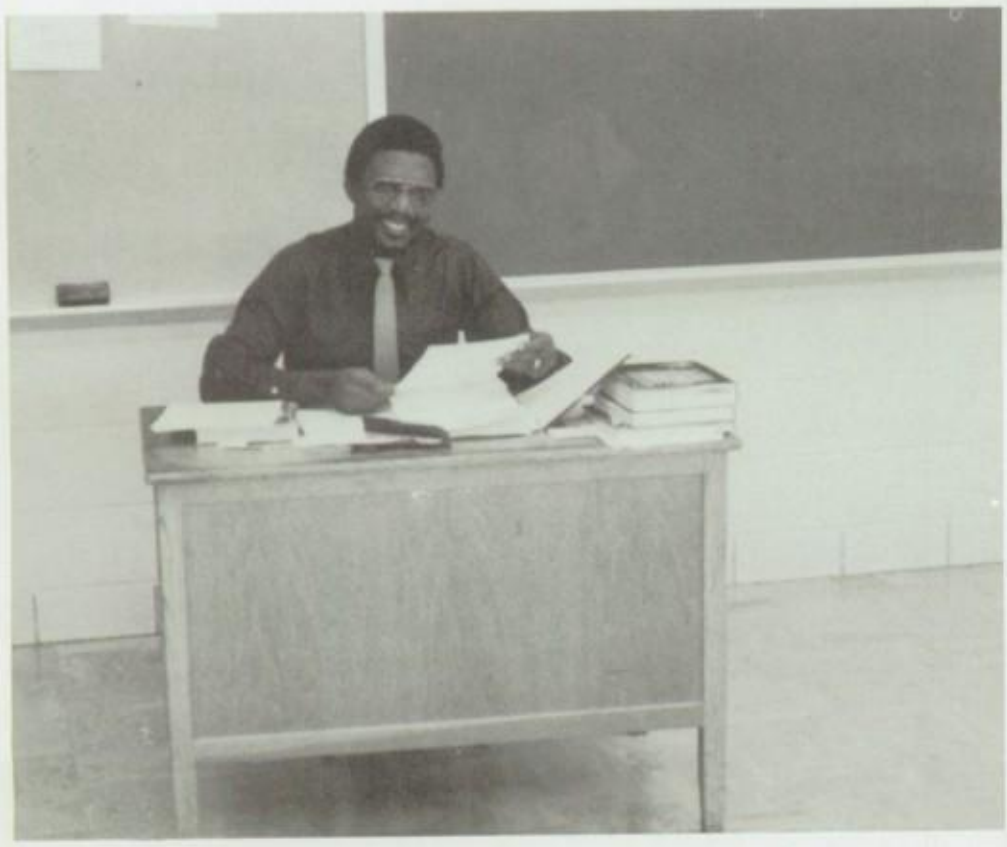
Math: Waymon Collins, George Morgan, Marvin Beach.

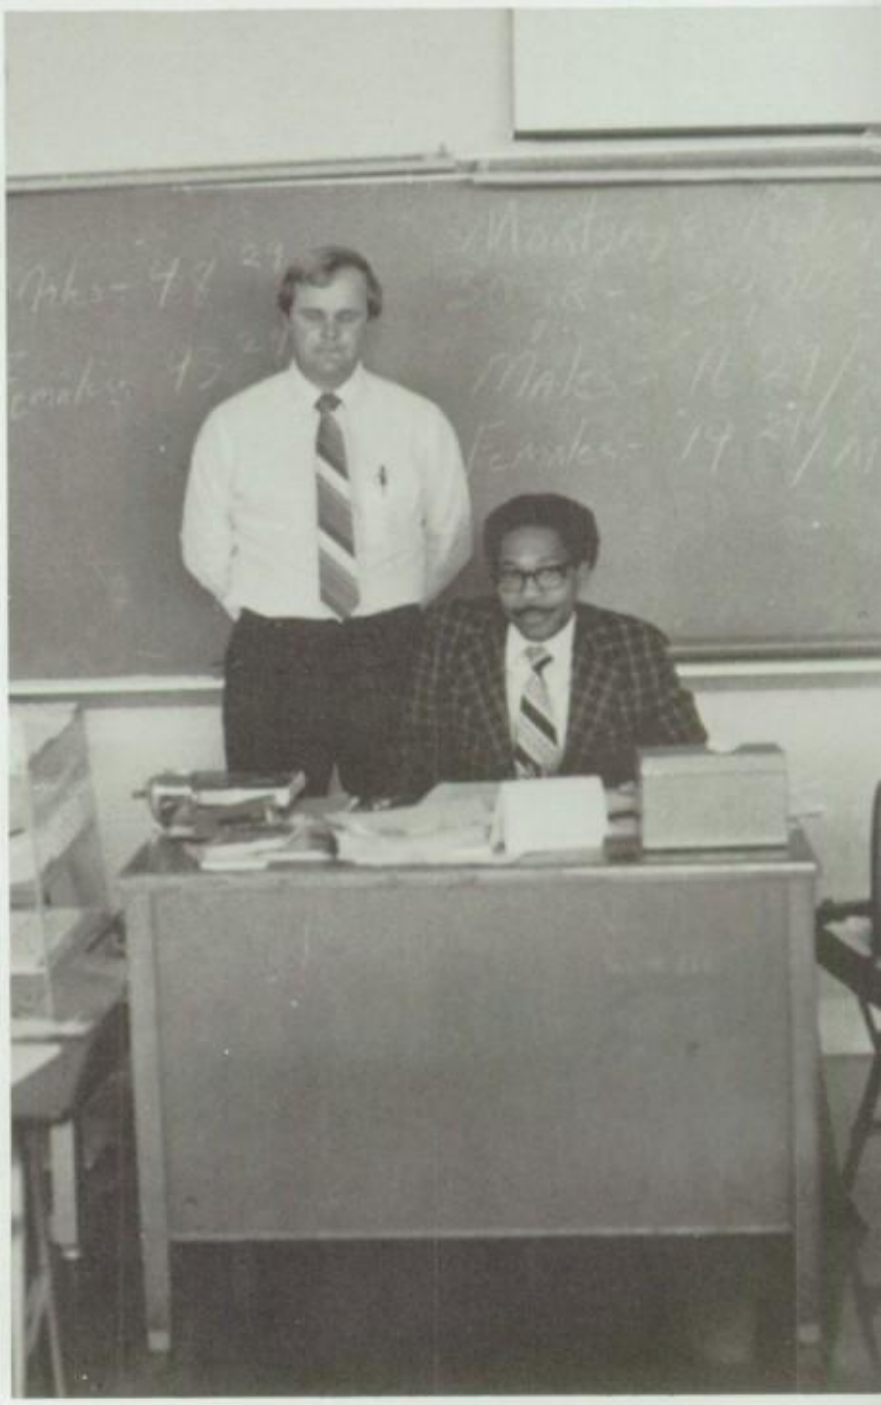
Helping Mr. Morgan solve a problem, student aide Jeff Bradey coaches from the sideline.

Pausing briefly between algebra classes, Mrs. Walker checks her plan for the next group.

Social Studies: Viewing Past And Present

Besides enabling us to gain an insight into our American heritage, our social studies department gave us a chance to examine current affairs. In a national election year, we observed our country's political mood turn conservative. We saw Ronald Reagan elected President, and we saw a change in the make-up of the U.S. Senate which acquired a Republican majority for the first time in twenty-six years. A troubling hostage crisis in Iran made us realize the importance of world peace.





Social Studies: Daniel A. McDowell.

Social Studies: James Meminger.

Social Studies: James Ramsey, Charles Adams.

Vocational: Looking To The Future

Our vocational department offered courses in agriculture, home economics and life skills. In these classes we studied everything from the business of farming to the principles of running a household. In life skills classes Mrs. Bunn helped us with career plans, with college and job applications, and with sorting out forms to qualify for financial aid. Our vocational teachers helped prepare us to be informed, productive graduates.

Life Skills: Dee Bunn.

In the greenhouse Darryl Wingo and his agriculture classmates check plant growth.

Agriculture: Hubert Waldrop.

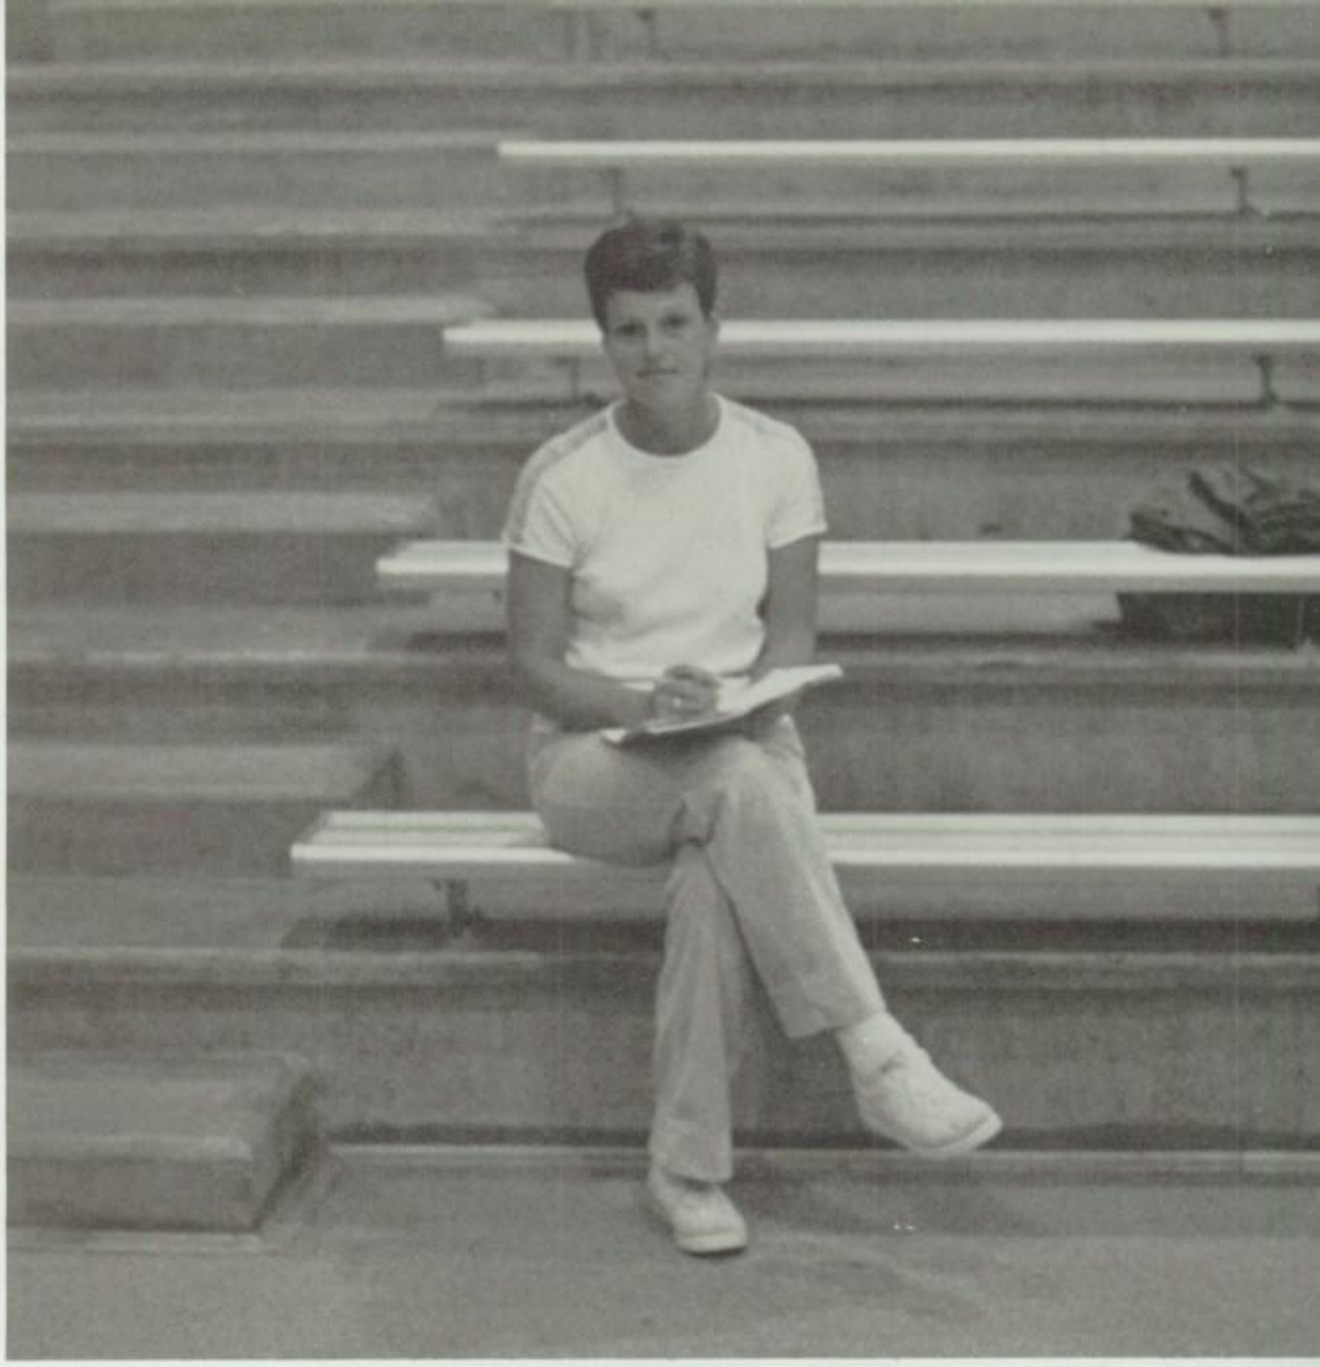
Home Economics: Helen Horne.

During third period Mrs. Bunn helps a student clarify career objectives.

Physical Education: Building Healthy Bodies

Encouraging the use of all the physical education facilities was a top priority for our P.E. teachers. We were able to participate in activities such as volleyball, basketball, ping pong, foosball, and even aerobic dancing.

Mr. Moon and Mrs. Coley stressed learning to play by the rules of the game. In conjunction with the athletic program, we also learned the principles of good health and proper first aid procedures. Another highlight of the physical education program was CPR training.



Physical Education: Thor Coley.

P.E. aide Tim Waldrop enjoys a game of foosball with several third period students.

After scoring a point, Lisa Bruce waits for her opponent to serve the ball.

Business: Offering Opportunities

The success of our business department can be attributed to the dedication and determination of our business teachers. Mrs. Pace and Mrs. Topham taught courses ranging from typing and accounting to office procedures. This year seniors were able to take business English for the first time in several years. In this new course seniors examined progressive ways of running a business office. Experience in business courses prepared us for careers and college.

Business: Mary Topham.

Before class Mrs. Pace helps Annette Jackson with an office procedures assignment.

During his free period, Joel Turner helps Mr. Beach type report cards.

With Mrs. Topham's assistance, Typing I student Pam Forrester learns the correct way to center her paper.

Business: Donna Pace.

Blake - I hope you enjoyed FBLA - I'm glad you are a member + that you attended our meetings so regularly. Best Wishes! Donna H. Pace

Library, Guidance: Providing Assistance

Two new faces greeted us in the library at the beginning of the year. Mrs. Harley, who substituted for Mrs. Searcy until January, and Mrs. Stone helped us find our way through the reference sources available.

Another new face met us in the guidance office. Mrs. Wilson quickly worked to gain our confidence and to help us with the problems and pressures of student life.

Guidance: Gail Wilson.

In the guidance office, Mrs. Wilson and Kathy Stott complete an application form.

Librarian: Maysie Harley.

Before class, Mrs. Harley helps Marlene Suddeth and Teresa Heatherly complete an assignment.

Outside the teachers' lounge, Mrs. Wilson pauses on her way to put news of the guidance office into teacher's boxes.

Staff: Coping With The Details

Coping with all of our minor problems, LHS staff members worked to make each school day a success. In the offices, the halls, the lunchroom, and the study hall, staff members helped provide the orderly, efficient, wholesome atmosphere we needed to be productive students. Their dependable competence made learning easier.

Secretary: Janice Ayers.

Secretary: Allie Thompson.

Study Hall: Carolyn Staggs.

Custodian: Terry Davis.

Lunchroom Staff: Rachel Wingo, Wilma Winkler, Martha Waldrop, Merle Oliver, Nellie Hutchins.

Annual Staff Catches That Cardinal Spirit

As usual the annual staff began its job of recording the school year early in June. At the AYC summer workshop, Cardinal staff members won the design competition and came back to school full of ideas for making the 1981 Cardinal better than ever. Putting those ideas into effect required hours of work. The challenges were many, but the rewards were clear when the boxes of annuals arrived in May.

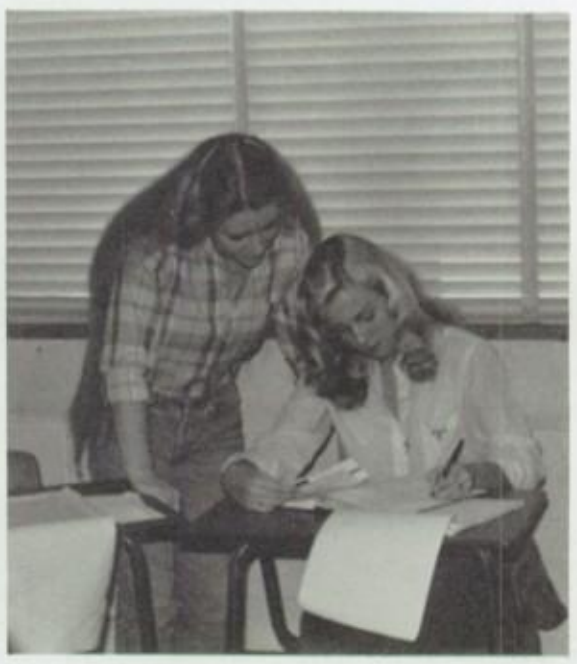
Section editor Stacey Ayers reviews faculty layouts with Janet Langford.

Photographers: Michael Hamrick, Sandra Horton, Lynn Stewart, Tommy Pack.

Co-editors: Jody Brown and Luci Little.

Working on captions for the class section, Terri Taylor suggests an idea to Wanda Owens and Susanne Williams.

Completing the club section, Rhonda Sprouse and Rita Hamrick check layouts as Lisa Settle and Cindy Plumley measure captions.



Trying to meet a deadline, copy editor, Marylou Thomson counts picas to be sure her story will fit.

Correcting the Miss Cardinal layouts, Jackie Blanton, Terry Tanguay and Mary Holden complete their assignment for the photographers.

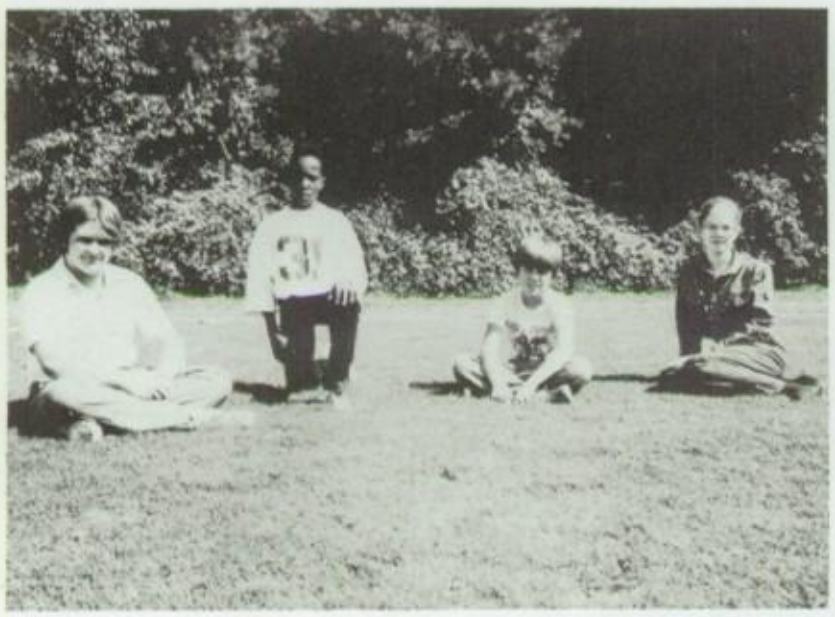
Keeping the books balanced, Kelly Brown and Julie Collins record deposits in the ledger.

Gathering around Mrs. Carriker's desk, section editors discuss organization problems.

Distinctive Regiment Wins Recognition

The Distinctive Regiment continued to grow in 1981. The band added several trophies to its collection and represented South Carolina at the annual Shrine Bowl game. A jazz band, organized this year, became very popular with the student body, and joined ranks with the marching band, the concert band and the pep band to make the LHS music department one of the best in the area.

Before the Oakway game, the band leads the Homecoming Parade.



Four students, Mike Thompson, Tim Hall, Douglas Ells and Rhonda McClure play with the concert band but not with the marching band.

Council Works To Improve Motivation

After elections in the fall, members of the Student Council and their new advisor, Mrs. Bunn, went to work on a project to improve student motivation and participation in school activities. A point system made it easy to see which homerooms were active, and the council rewarded winners with special breakfasts.

Council members were also in charge of the bulletin board at the end of Hall B. Each week school news was posted to keep everyone informed of honors and achievements of student body members and organizations.

Advisory Council members: Julie Staggs and Lisa Settle.

Beta Club Helps Family At Christmas

Senior Beta Club members began the 1981 school year with a new sponsor, Miss Prince. The club, which recognizes students for academic achievement, worked to encourage improved scholarship. At Christmas the club took pride in its project of buying presents for a local family.

Senior Beta Officers: Luci Little, president; Mary Holden, secretary; Linda Raines, reporter; Rhonda Sprouse, treasurer; Jeff Bradey, vice president.

Before the November meeting, officers review project ideas.

Junior Betas Organize "85 Club"

After increasing their membership to twenty-five in 1981; the Junior Beta Club became a busy organization. The group sponsored Teacher Appreciation Day and created the "85 Club" to honor students who earned averages above 85 during each grading period of the year. The Junior Betas also worked with the senior club to help a family at Christmas.

First row: David Brady. Second row: Rosanne Little, Debbie McCracken. Third row: Beverly Phillips. Fourth row: Lynn Bradley, Paula Shehan, Martha Atkins, Barry Thompson. Fifth row: Robin Lee, Deborah Seifert, Beverly Howell. Sixth row: Teresa Flynn, Crystal Arrowood. Seventh row: Earl Walker, Gary Ravan. Eighth row: David Willard, Loretta Hembree, Tracie Hyder, Sonya Stewart. Ninth row: Julie Staggs, Landa Basham, Shelley Medley. Tenth row: Carla Morton, Lisa Bruce, Tina Hyder.

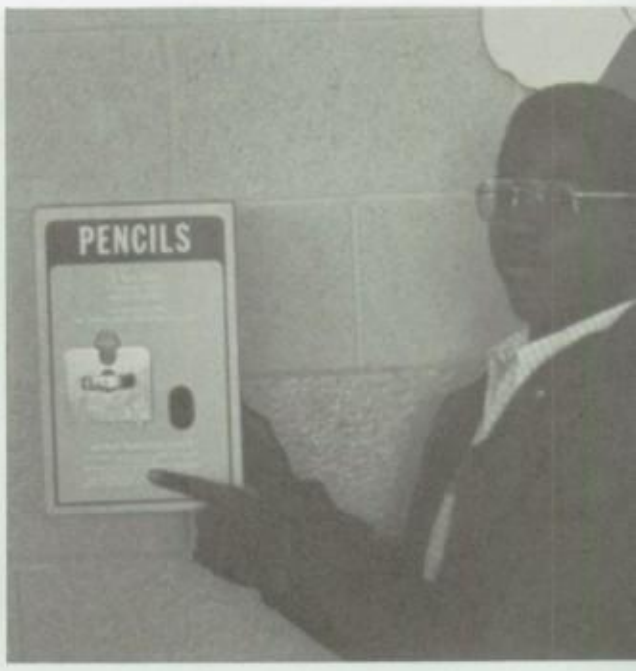
During assembly, Tracie Hyder participates in the induction ceremony.

Junior Beta officers: Lisa Bruce, treasurer; Martha Atkins, secretary; Deborah Seifert, project chairman; Barry Thompson, vice president; Robin Lee, president.

FBLA Promotes Leadership In Business

In 1981 membership in the FBLA continued to grow. The fall induction ceremony signaled the beginning of an active year. Club members participated in competitive events at the District Leadership Conference in Belton-Honea Path, and officers attended the leadership workshop in Myrtle Beach. During the Christmas season, club members visited White Oak Terrace and sang carols for the residents. In February members collected money for the American Cancer Society.

Induction speaker George Smith involves the student body in his speech with a game.



In November Amile Summers helps install a pencil vendor, one of the FBLA projects for 1981.

At the induction reception, Mrs. Pace welcomes Rosanne Moore to the club.

Officers Cindy Plumley and Tammy Smith begin the induction assembly program.

At the conclusion of the assembly program, FBLA officers recite the organization creed.

Highlighting the induction program , new members recite the membership pledge.

FBLA Officers. Front: Rita Hamrick, historian; Cindy Plumley, president. Standing: Sherry Orduna, treasurer; Mrs. Pace, advisor; Linda Tanguay, parliamentarian; Carla Fricks, vice-president; Jackie Blanton, secretary; Tammy Smith, reporter.

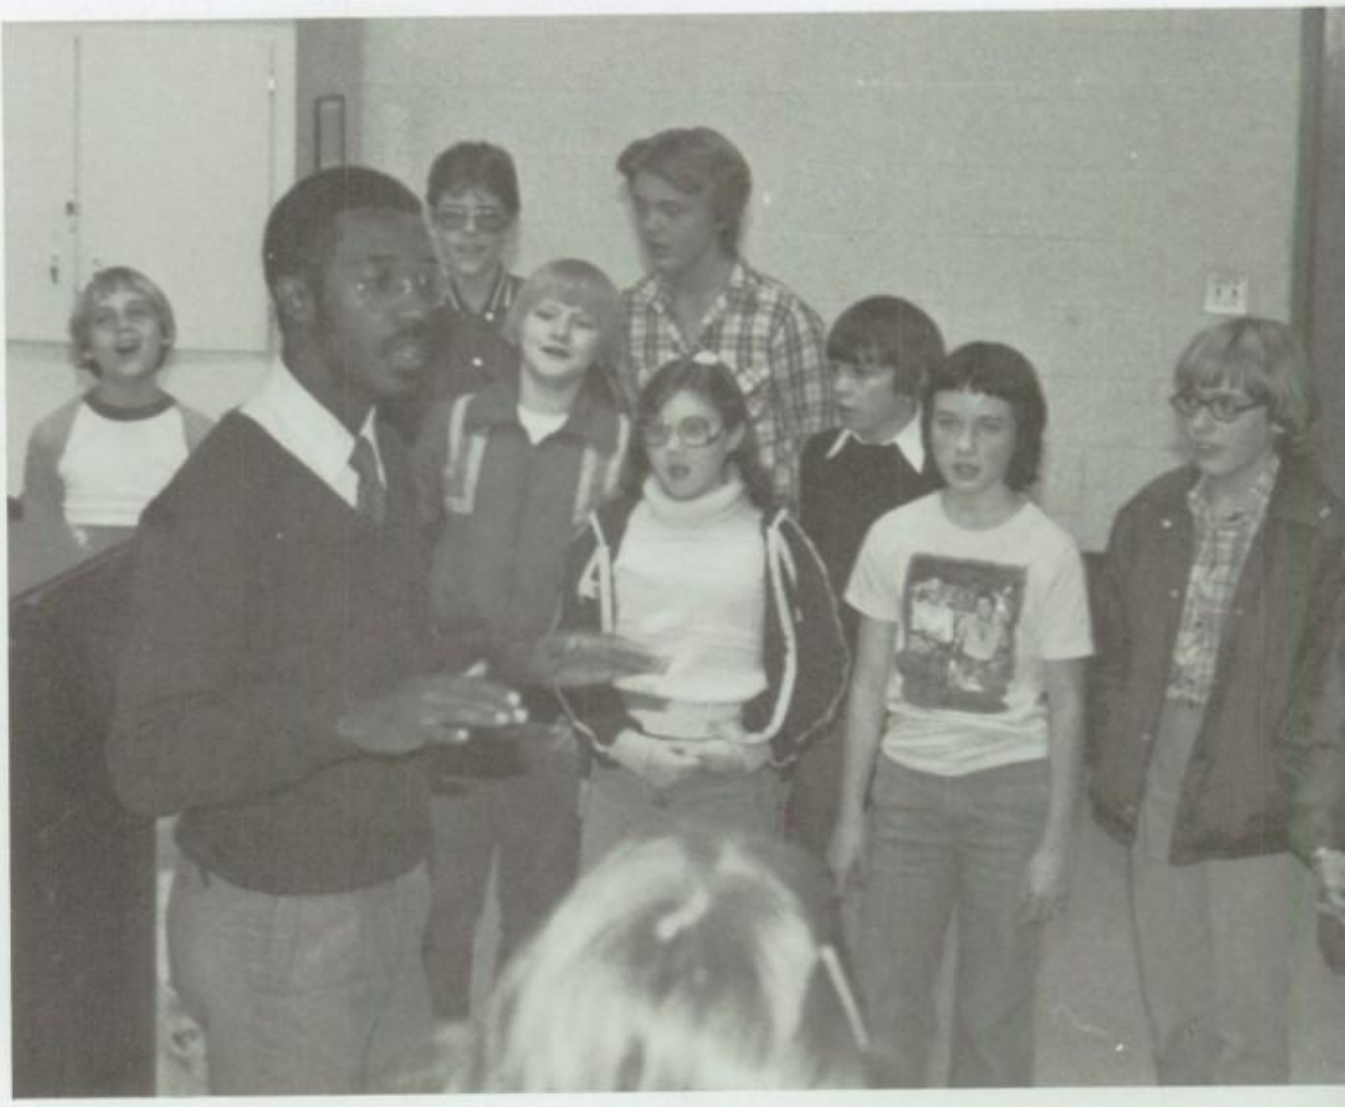
After the induction ceremony, Rosanne Little and Sonya Maybry enjoy the reception.

New Director Leads Chorus

1981 was also a year of change for the chorus. A new director, Mr. Sligh, worked with the group and prepared them for several concerts during the year. Programs at Thanksgiving and Christmas provided opportunities for the chorus to entertain the student body.



During first period, Mr. Sligh directs a chorus rehearsal.

During studyhall students use resources provided in the library.

Library Club Makes Reading Fundamental

When school opened, library club members learned they would be working with two new sponsors, Mrs. Harley and Mrs. Stone. Mrs. Harley remained with the group until Mrs. Searcy returned in January. As usual club members provided valuable service to the school as they helped both students and teachers with books, research and audio-visual materials.

Club president Rhonda Price checks out a book for Mark Miller.

FHA Sponsors Mr. FHA Contest

For the second year, FHA members decided to sponsor a Mr. FHA contest. The competition proved to be a highly successful money-making project which provided funds for other club activities. During the year the club held a craft program and entertained members at a Christmas party.

First row: Mrs. Horne, Sheila Dill, Melinda Burrell, Linda Tanguay, Sherry Orduna, Donna Hutchins, Sandy Raines, Wanda Owens, Linda Raines. Second row: Pam Huntsinger, Renee Kale, Sonya Maybry, Candi Davis.

Making cuttings, "Aggie" assists Rita Hamrick and Kelly Brown in the greenhouse.

FFA Increases Membership

Membership in the FFA nearly doubled in 1981 as the club listed sixty-five students on its roll. During the year the group helped improve the community by landscaping an area at the town library. Club members entered flower exhibits in the Piedmont Interstate Fair and won several awards. In January the club sponsored the FFA Sweetheart contest. Several members also went on field trips to the Upper State Fair and to Spartanburg Technical College.

Athletes Earn Block L Honor

Each year athletes and cheerleaders who participate in the school sports program can earn membership in the Block L. In 1981 the organization continued to stress good sportsmanship and positive attitudes in athletes as they worked to earn recognition for the school. For the first time this year, LHS athletes enjoyed the use of a new weight room which was completed in the fall.

After school Jeff Pace and Kelly Cash wait for the varsity to practice in the gym.

Office Aides Work Behind The Scenes

Working behind the scenes, student aides regularly helped the secretaries and the faculty with hundreds of routine tasks that mount up each school year. These aides provided a service which in turn freed the staff to handle more complex assignments and allowed the faculty more time to devote to teaching.

In the front office, Mr. Holden helps aide Jerry Rollins check eligibility regulations.

At the end of sixth period Lynn Stewart and Heather Ruppe make announcements.

Bus Drivers Stress Safety

In a continuing effort to prevent accidents, LHS Bus Drivers began the year with a renewed effort to improve safety. The district worked with the drivers by adding a safety patrol on each bus to assure the safety of students as they crossed the street before boarding or after leaving school buses.

Football Cheerleaders Shout It Out!

Beginning to work immediately after they were selected in May, the football cheerleaders launched into practice sessions and fund-raising projects to be ready for the 1980 football season. Both the varsity and junior varsity squads had to raise money for their uniforms. The varsity sold baseball hats and sponsored a bake sale and a donut sale. The junior high cheerleaders also sold hats.

During the summer months both squads attended camp and brought home winning ratings for their participation. As the football season began, the cheerleaders planned pep rallies, hosted an ice cream supper and cookout for the players, and held a bonfire to ignite Cardinal spirit at the game.

Basketball Cheerleaders Spread Cardinal Fever!

After being selected in May, the basketball cheerleaders faced the same fund-raising problems as the football cheerleaders. The varsity and junior high squads sold donuts, key chains, and spirit buttons to raise money for their sweaters and their tuitions for summer camps at Furman and Wofford.

Both groups participated in the Landrum and Campobello Christmas parades. They made posters and organized some of the best pep rallies ever in addition to cheering the basketball teams on to a successful season.

Varsity Shines Unexpectedly During Rebuilding Year

Finishing the season with a 5-4 record, the varsity football team completed a year with many bright spots to look back on. After a disappointing opening game with Chapman, the team came back to defeat Polk Central 22-0. Impressive victories over Blue Ridge and Tryon led the team to the peak of its season, the Christ Church game, which ended in a 28-23 win for the Cardinals. Although the season ended with two losses, the young team's improvement during the year indicated promise for a strong 1981 season.

Running the ball up the middle, Terry Waldrop destroys Chapman's defense.

After the game, Matt Coley listens as coaches Hicks and Ramsey review the game with his father, Coach Coley.

Cardinals Explode With Impressive Wins

During its surprisingly impressive season the varsity squad showed strength on the offensive line even though junior Roger Humphries was unable to play for three weeks because of an injury. The backfield improved as the season progressed since the young players seemed to learn from their mistakes and were able to correct them. Senior Johnny Wilkins played the main role in the backfield, and both he and Anthony Greene carried the ball well. Quarterback Terry Waldrop led the team's aerial attack usually hitting flankers Kelly Cash or Barry Bruce.

Running through the banner, the Cardinals prepare for the Homecoming game with Oakway.

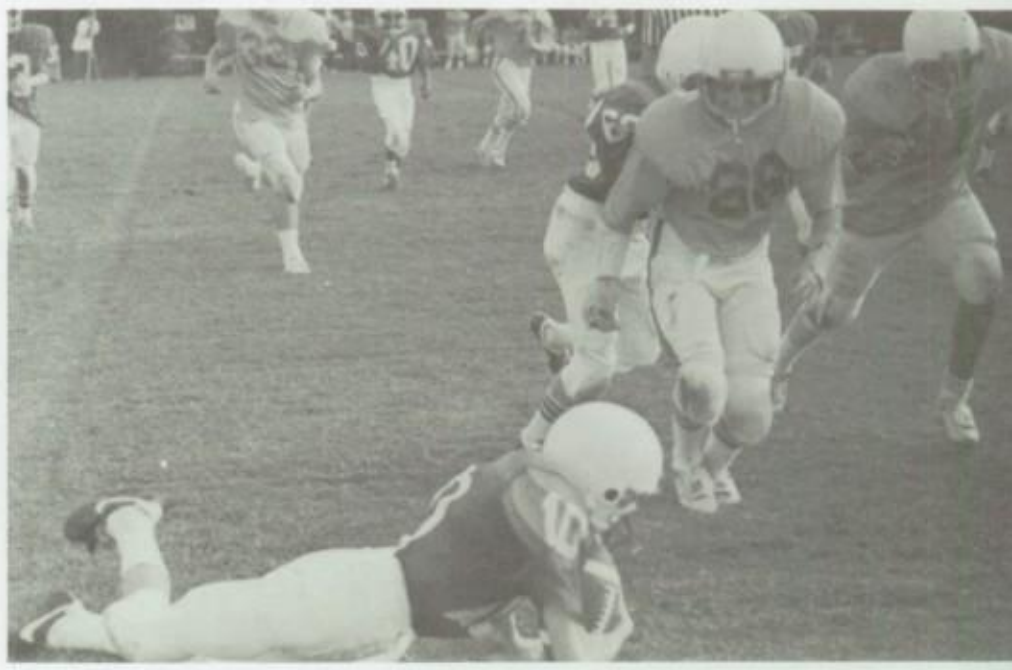
Junior High Falls To Area Foes

With no returning players on the squad, the Junior High football team suffered a serious lack of experience at the beginning of its 1980 season. The lack of experience resulted from a change in the 1980 LHS football program. Previously ninth graders had been a part of the Junior High squad, but this year the team was made up of players from only the seventh and eighth grades.

Inexperience proved to be costly for the team which did not manage a single victory during the season. In spite of their record, Coaches Moon and McDowell remained optimistic about the future. They had faith that the experience their players gained this year would pay off next year with confident, seasoned veterans who could take on any opposition.



Hanging tough, the Cardinal defense prevents Campobello from getting a first down.

LHS Gymnasts Earn State Recognition

After losing two of its outstanding members to graduation in 1980, the gymnastics team went through a big transition year. Ten of the eleven team members were in grades seven, eight and nine. In spite of their youth, Coach Dan Young believed the group was exceptionally talented and had tremendous potential.

Again in 1981 the team sponsored its third state championship meet in addition to sponsoring the sixth annual Landrum High School Gymnastics Invitational Meet on January 31.

"Run And Gun" Attack Keys Varsity Success

Hours of practice paid off for the 1981 varsity boys basketball team. Early in the year the team earned a high ranking in the state. Throughout the season the team maintained a 75 point game average. Among the team strengths was a strong game featuring center Ricky Dean McDowell. The outside shooting ability of Todd Hardin, Jeff Pace, Craig Ruff and Kelly Cash was another strong point which added a new dimension to the attack of the "Running Reds." According to Coach Hicks, the daily two-hour practice sessions helped the team as they concentrated on movement and hustle to make their "run and gun" game plan a winning strategy in 1981.

From the foul line, Todd Hardin takes a jump shot during the Polk Central game.

On a fast break, Kelly Cash glides in for a lay up.

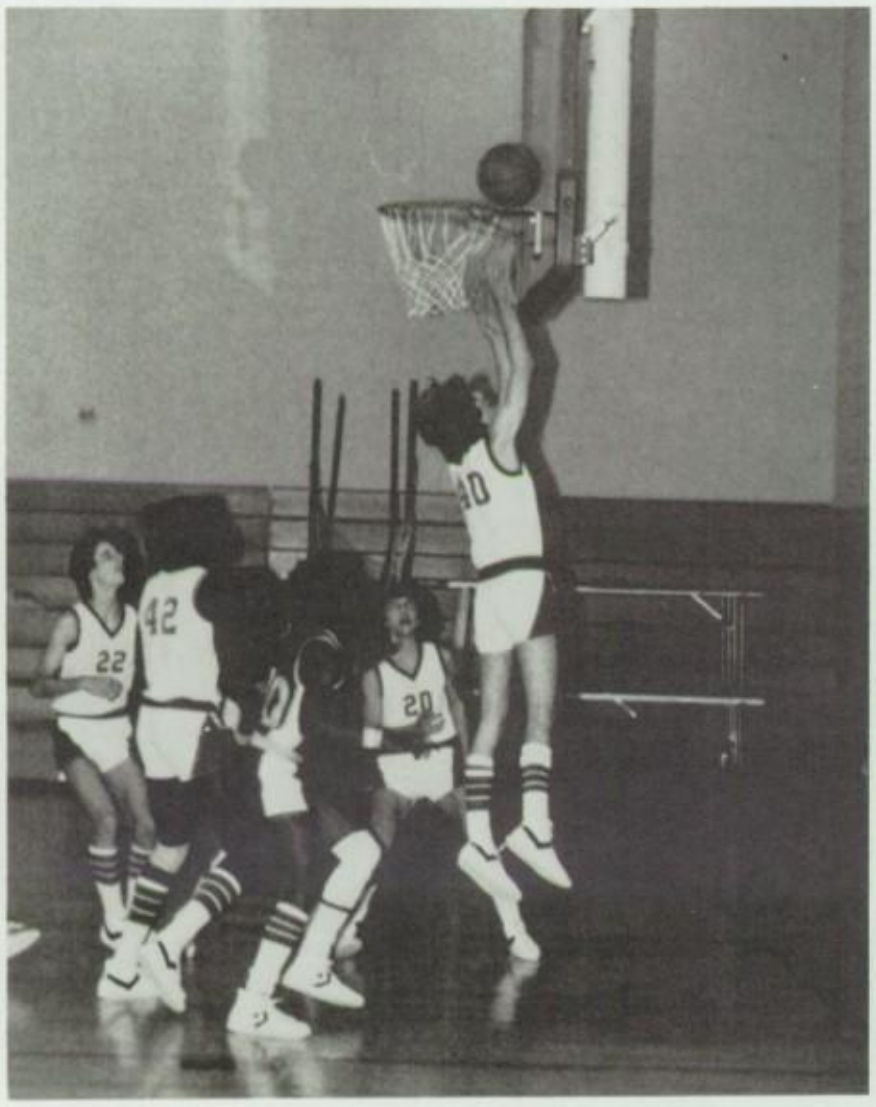
At the end of the quarter, Coach Hicks advises the team on second-quarter strategy.

During the Tryon game, Ricky Dean McDowell slams the ball in for two.

Varsity Shoots For Conference Crown

By the season's end, the Running Reds boasted the best record of any team in LHS history. Finishing the regular season with a 18-6 record, the team ventured confidently into tournament play.

Reflecting on the 1981 season, Coach Hicks looked upon the team's two victories over Chesnee as high points in the year. Though he was disappointed in the ups and downs of team play, the coach was also proud of individual achievements of players such as Ricky McDowell who set a new school scoring record of 45 points in the game against Chapman. Good free throw shooting in crucial situations was another contributing factor in the team's success. With five juniors on the team planning to return next year, Coach Hicks hopes for an even better season in 1982.



Following through with the play pattern, Craig Ruff lays the ball up for two.

Lady Cardinals Challenge Opponents

Under the direction of a new coach, Marsha West, the girls varsity basketball team improved in all aspects of play throughout the season. Although the girls did not enjoy a winning season, no opponent experienced an easy victory against the Lady Cardinals. By the season's end the team had matured and was a major cotender in conference play.

Four seniors and a sophomore led the team in starting positions. Senior Marylou Thomson became the team's leading scorer and was also one of the area's top ten scorers.

Leading the fast break, Jeannette Edwards pushes the ball down court for the Lady Cardinals.

New Coach Encourages Winning Attitudes

In spite of their record, the Lady Cardinals experienced several high points during the season. The team subjected arch-rival Chapman High School to a humiliating overtime, and though the girls lost in the final minute of play, Coach West was pleased with their effort in the game. Another highlight of the season came when the team scored an important conference victory over Calhoun Falls by 26 points.

During the year, Coach West worked to give the girls a broader perspective on the importance of teamwork and hustle. She stressed that winning scores were no more important than winning attitudes on and off the court. By the season's end the Lady Cardinals were positive they had given 100 percent of their efforts, and they knew they had developed championship attitudes.

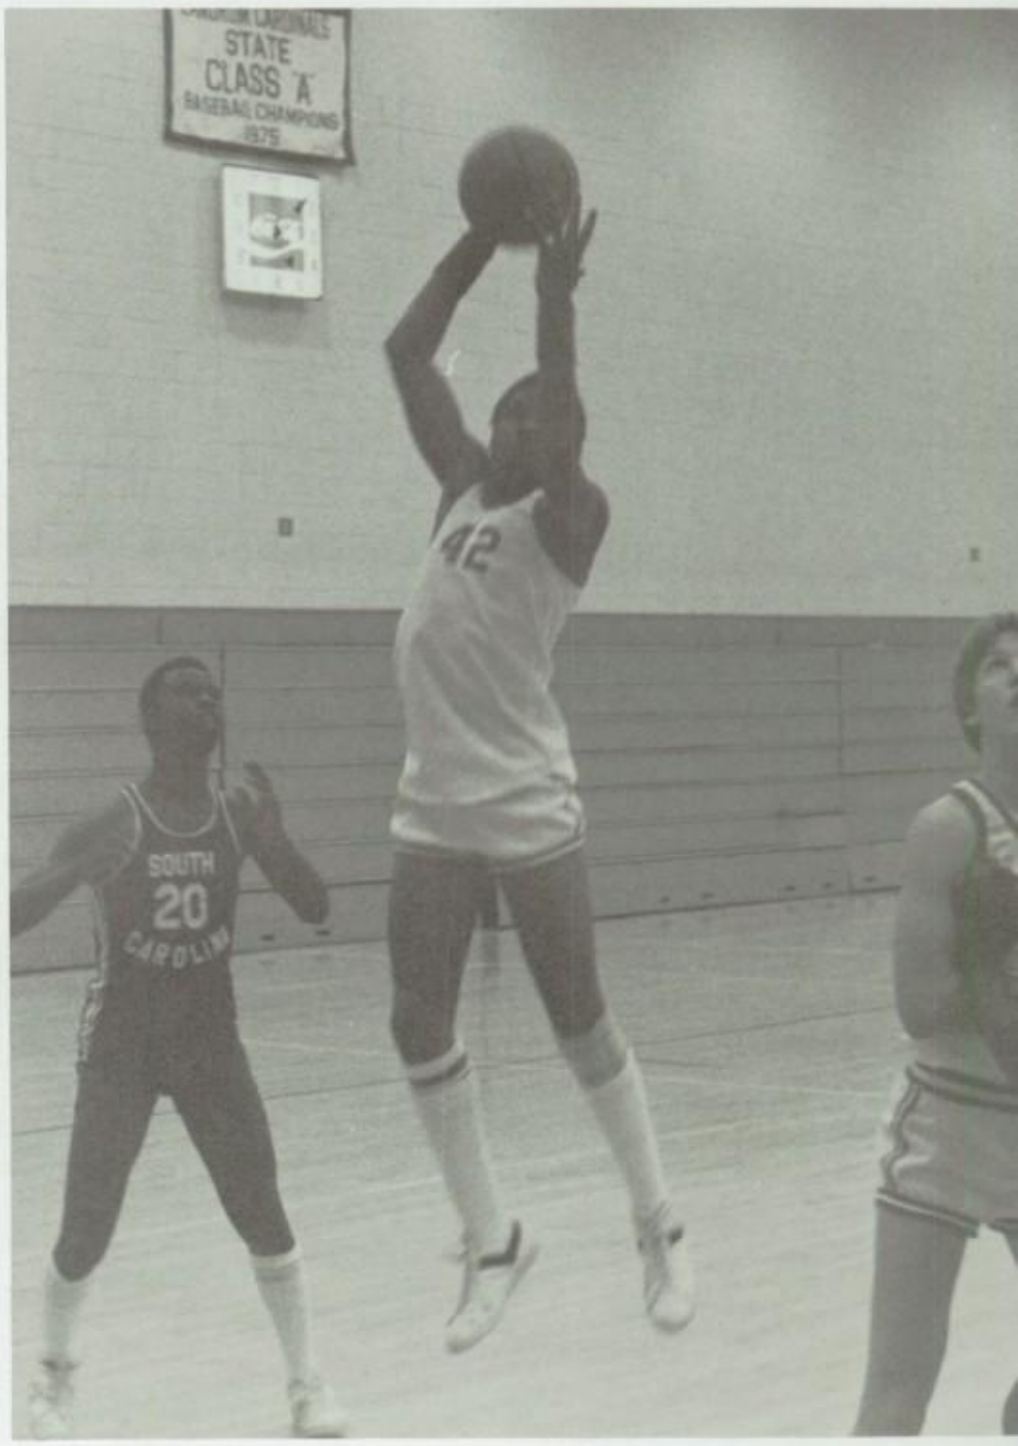
Teamwork Keys Junior Varsity Success

Despite their youth and inexperience, an enthusiastic group of eleven freshmen and sophomores posted the best junior varsity season ever. Their final record was a strong 11-6.

According to Coach Jim Ramsey, the team's strategy centered around "controlling the game's tempo and forcing the opponent to play at our pace." Coach Ramsey also believed that the primary indispensable attribute of this year's squad was the exceptional "team" play.

At least two players earned recognition for their performances during the season. Anthony Glover became the team's offensive catalyst while Jerry Rollins evolved as the key defensive player. Their performances plus the team effort combined to produce a winning Cardinal Junior Varsity.



Concentrating on the basket, Brett Bridges shoots over a defender.

Determined Spirit Aids Junior High Boys

Playing together for the first time on a Cardinal basketball team, members of the junior high boys team worked to learn strategy and to improve their playing abilities. Team members made up for any lack of natural talent with desire and sheer determination to master the game.

The boys' hard work paid off in the Junior High Tournament where the team finished in second place after a disappointing loss in the championship game. Improvement of the team during the season inspired optimism from the coaches concerning future Cardinal teams.

Junior High Girls Post Excellent Record

The 1981 junior high girls basketball team was one of the strongest and most experienced teams Coach Coley had worked with in several teams. After completing a very successful 9-1 season, the team went on to win the conference crown at the tournament played at Campobello-Gramling. The experience and successful record of the junior high girls indicated strength for the Lady Cardinals in the future.

Cardinal Nine Slug Through Tough Season

Although the 1980 baseball team completed the season with only an average record, that record was not indicative of the kind of year the team had. The schedule, mainly composed of opponents from 3A and 4A schools, was a tremendous challenge for the team. Actually, the Cardinals did not even face a conference opponent until the tournament which unfortunately took place the day after the Junior-Senior. Undoubtedly, the prom had an effect on the game. The team finished third in the conference after losing in the semifinals of the tournament.

Boys Tennis Team Nets Winning Record

The 1980 tennis season was a good one for the boys tennis team. They finished the year with their first winning record and finished stronger in state tournament play than ever before. Thanks to the Athletic Booster Club, the team was able to purchase a new tennis ball machine which proved to be beneficial as team members prepared for matches. Coach Cooper voiced his satisfaction with the team's improvement during the year. He looked for an even better record in 1981.

Problems Handicap Girls Tennis Team

Although serious problems handicapped the girls tennis team throughout the 1980 season, the girls struggled along until the season's end. The team did manage to achieve victories over Broome and Tryon, and two team members Marylou Thomson and Luci Little, earned medals in doubles in the state tournament in Columbia. In spite of the fact that the future of the girls tennis program looked bleak, 1980 team members were grateful for the experience they gained during their challenging season.

Boys Track Always In The Running

Completing the 1980 season, the boys track team looked back on a successful record. The team finished third in the conference and sent several runners to compete at the state level. Senior Tim Thompson finished first in the state in the 1A division in the 100 meter race and third in the 200 meter run. Danny Jackson finished second in the two mile run.

During the season Coach McDowell noted individual improvement of his team members. Roger Humphries led the scoring in the weight division of field events and Kelly Cash became an important asset to the team as he demonstrated his ability to change events successfully.

Stretching for the finish line, Tim Thompson wins the 100-yard dash.

Concentrating on his form, Roger Humphries attempts to improve on his first throw.

Pushing for a win, mile runners Wayne Belue and Chuck West stretch for the finish line.

Girls Track Team Sprints To Success

During 1980 the girls track team accomplished several of the goals that Coach Bonnie Rogers had established for them. Throughout the season the team improved and placed second in the conference meet, trailing the winners by only three points. Six team members competed in the state meet in Columbia.

Coach Rogers believed her last season at LHS was a rewarding experience. She pointed out that the girls had broken school records in fourteen of fifteen events. Participation in girls track also improved as the team boasted members from all grades at LHS.

Keeping her pace steady, Terry Tanguay completes the mile run.

In the two-mile run, Allison Loyless pushes toward the finish line.

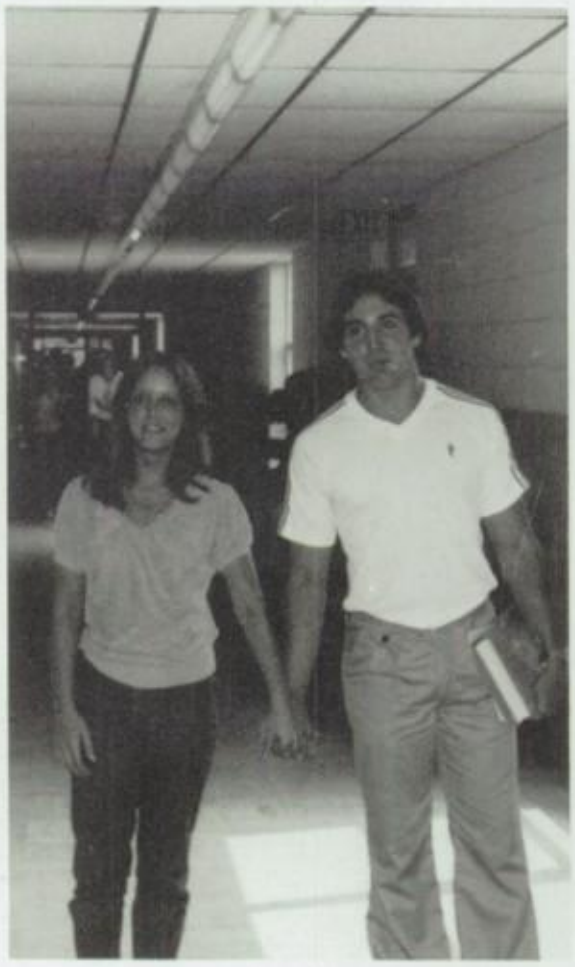
Juniors Plan Projects To Pay For Prom

As Juniors returned to school in August, the challenge of a Junior-Senior Prom became a reality. Efforts to raise money took on all the signs of urgency as the class collected dues, sponsored the homecoming dance and accepted the challenge of the senior girls to play in the Powder Puff game. After completing these projects, Juniors saw their plans for a great Junior-Senior take shape.



Between classes Donna Hutchins and Roger Humphries enjoy a brief stroll.

On his way to lunch Tim Clayton clowns for the cameraman.

With money in hand, juniors wait to order rings.

Inflation Bites Junior Pocketbooks

Reflecting economic trends, the price of class rings climbed dramatically for the class of '82. Explanations such as the rate of inflation and the price of gold did little to soften the blow that many class rings cost over $200. Mothers cried; Fathers shouted, and juniors went to work so that they could purchase that coveted momento.

Sophomores Appoint Project Committee

Early in the year, sophomores became concerned with their class treasury. As a result, the class established a project committee composed of representatives from each homeroom to plan and carry out fund-raising projects. One of the most successful class projects was the selling of Cardinal plastic cups.

Sophomores Participate In Activities

Quickly sophomores learned that they could be full-fledged participants in high school activities. Class members earned positions on varsity teams and qualified for membership in clubs. Tenth graders were also elected to serve on the Student Council and on the Advisory Council. The class expected to profit in the future from the experience their responsible roles provided.

Ninth Graders Join High School Ranks

When ninth graders returned to school in August, they had a new identity. Officially they were members of the freshman class. Course work and outside activities became more important. Passing meant credit toward graduation, and participation in sports could mean varsity recognition. Typical freshman enthusiasm added excitement and laughter to Cardinal life.

Freshmen Enjoy Movies, Friends, Activities

Thoughts of class rings and prom plans were remote to most freshmen, but they found ways to fill their spare time. Beverly Howell, Gary Wofford, Wendi Lockhart and Andrea Nanney all enjoyed movies and being with their friends. Such films as Urban Cowboy, Alligator, Halloween, and The Champ rated high in their opinions. Donna Miller, Reneé Kale and Kim Richardson were excited about their membership in the Distinctive Regiment at LHS.

Ambitious Freshmen Plan Ahead

Upon investigation freshmen voiced a broad range of ambitions. Lee Raines described his desire to become a band director. Robin Lee talked of teaching elementary school, and Tracie Hyder thought marine biology would be her field. Outlining her interest in travel, Tracey West said she wanted to be a travel agent. Not to be outdone, Stephen Walden mentioned that he would make a fine President.

After a long day, Freddie Smith relaxes in the corner of study hall.

Eighth Graders Gain Self-Confidence

In the fall eighth graders seemed better prepared to handle life at LHS. Taking over Hall C, they continued the tradition of harassing seventh graders. Barbara Raines said she felt better than last year about LHS. Phillip Messer liked the fun and excitement at school, but Kim Williams complained, "I wish we could get away with more.

Eighth Grade Interests Diversified

Predictably, eighth graders expressed diversified interests. Autumn Stott talked about rollerskating and parties while Mark Coley and Bobbi Shehan said they enjoyed playing basketball, eating and spending money. Several class members said they liked movies. Suprisingly, a few eighth graders mentioned that they spent some of their spare time studying.

Seventh Graders Come To LHS With Fears

Harassed and teased by more experienced upper classmen, seventh graders described their arrival at LHS as a terrifying experience. They talked freely of their fears. Mandy Landers admitted she was scared to come, and Ricky Dill said he was sure he didn't want to come and wouldn't want to stay. Michelle Winkler confessed that her first days were awful, but she confirmed that life had improved and she, like others, had become excited about being a part of Landrum High.

Seventh Grade Achievers Recognized

During the year, three seventh graders, Mandy Landers, Sonya Pearson and Jennifer Nodine, were nominated to participate in the Duke University Talent Search. The nominees had earned outstanding achievement test scores in the sixth grade. As participants in the Talent Search, these seventh graders took the SAT, a test usually given to juniors and seniors. Evaluation of their test results could lead to opportunites for advanced study.

Seventh Graders Set Goals

Considering the future, seventh graders saw many opportunities to achieve their goals. Brian Dill explained that he had an academic scholarship in mind. Spencer Brabo had specific hopes for a scholarship to Clemson. One student said she wanted more responsibility and freedom, and Brian Smith discussed his plans to be a scientist. Clearly, seventh graders had already begun to make plans for the days after their graduation in 1986!

At the end of third period, Rita Campbell has her thermos ready for the lunch break.

Let Us Help You

An Old Idea

Once when a man rendered a service it was the best he could possibly do. He stood behind his work with pride. He lived a simple idea. Do it right or don't do it at all. Now that idea might be threatened. Today, that pride in service, in the quality of things is in danger of slowly slipping away.

However, there are still individuals, many of them, who are working harder today than ever before to preserve quality in everything they do. We feel, at the Kale Clinics, we are such individuals.

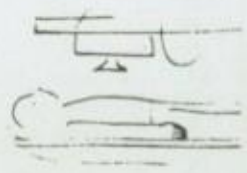
Trained Staff

KALE CHIROPRACTIC DAY CLINICS are a group of doctors and clinics dedicated to bringing the most accurate and proven methods of Chiropractic care to the people of the Carolinas. Chiropractic has taken great strides in the past 14 years and we've been leading the way in the Carolinas.

Care You Can Count On

OUR BASIC SERVICE: Helping people regain lost health and the joy of living. Excellent results with back problems, headaches, shoulder problems and other nerve related conditions has made us the largest complex of Chiropractic clinics in the Carolinas.

X-Ray



Utilizing specialized x-ray procedures and analyzing techniques at all our clinics, we have been able to detect and remove the cause of many common but aggravating problems.

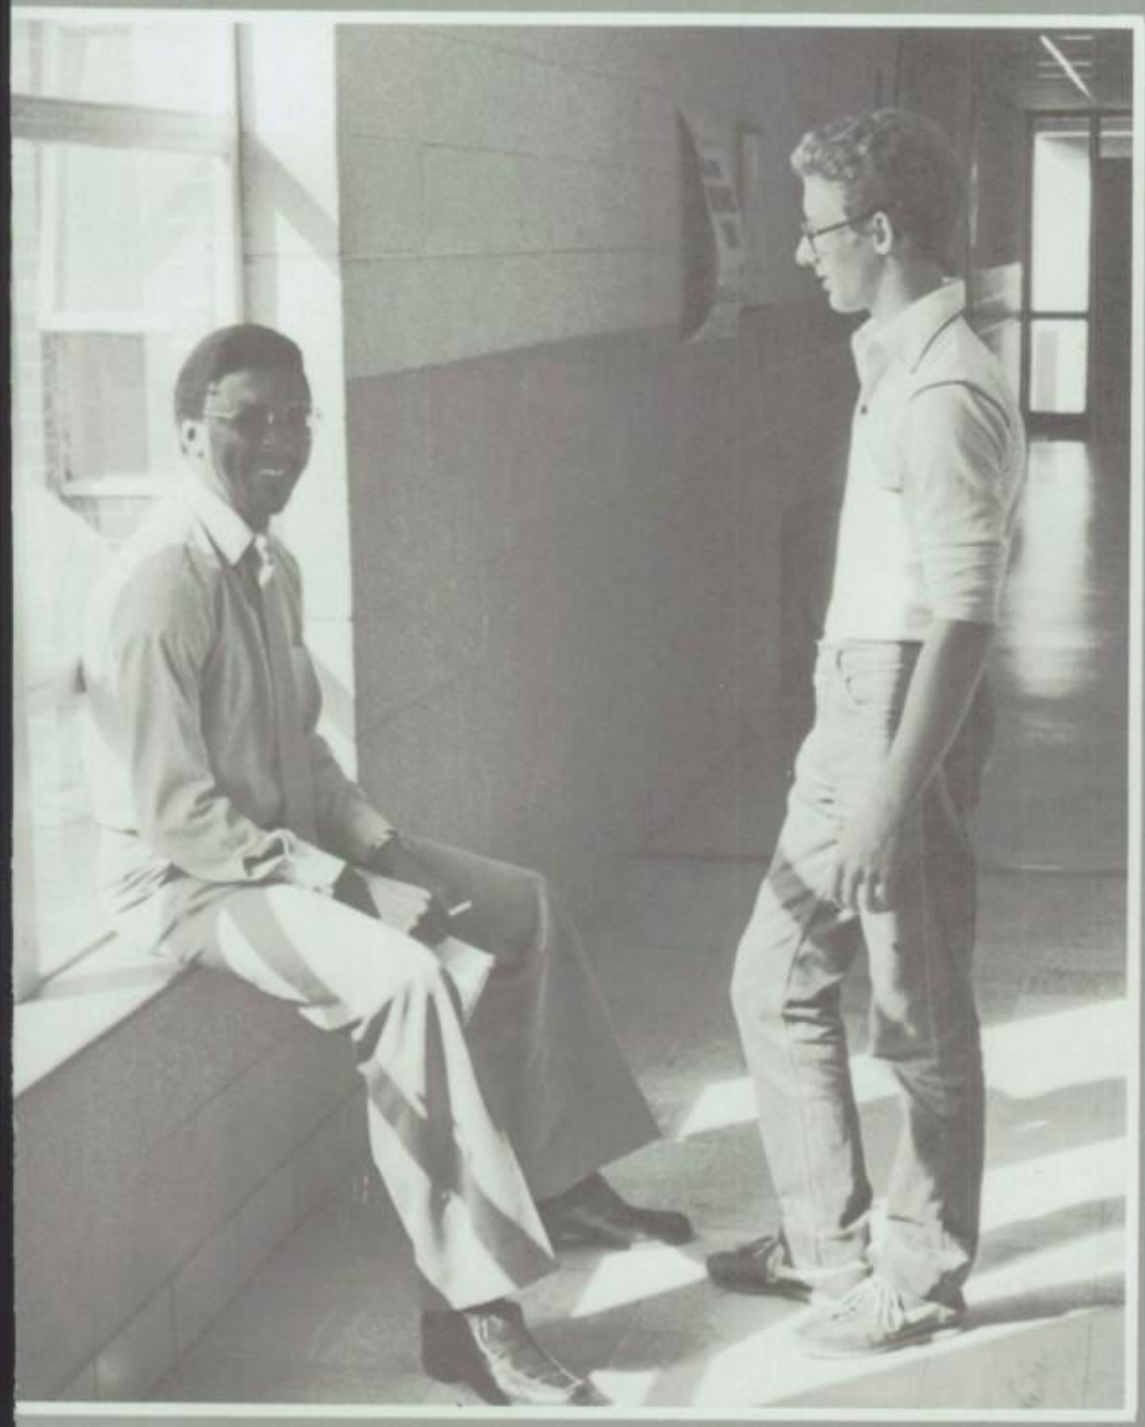
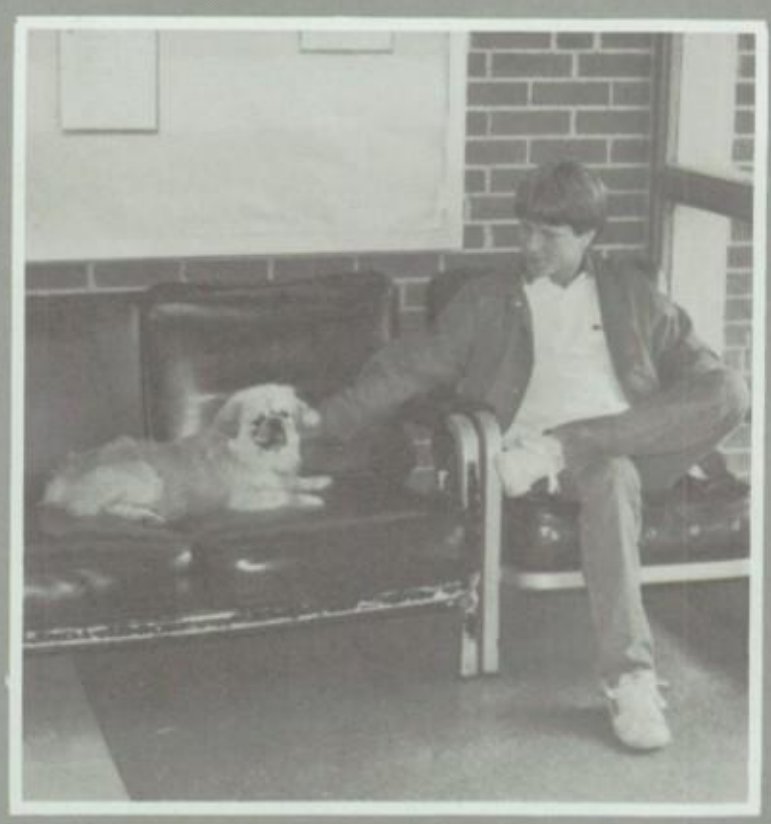
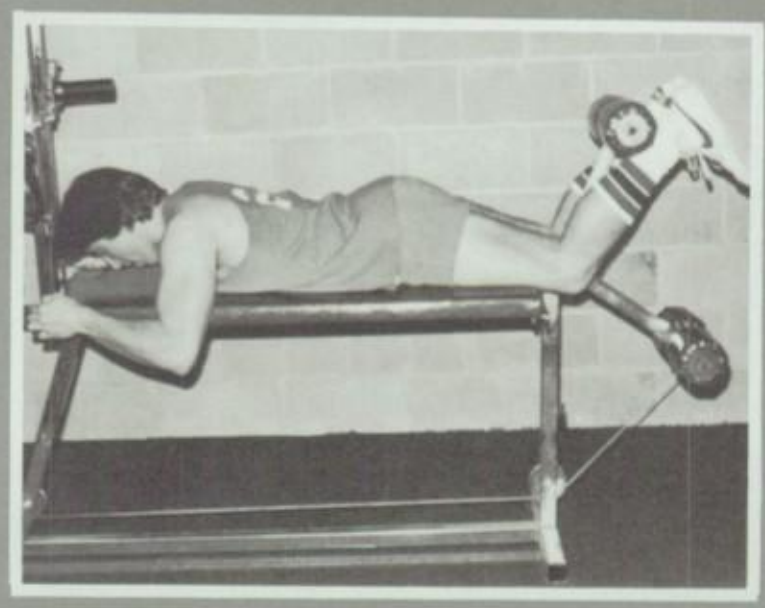
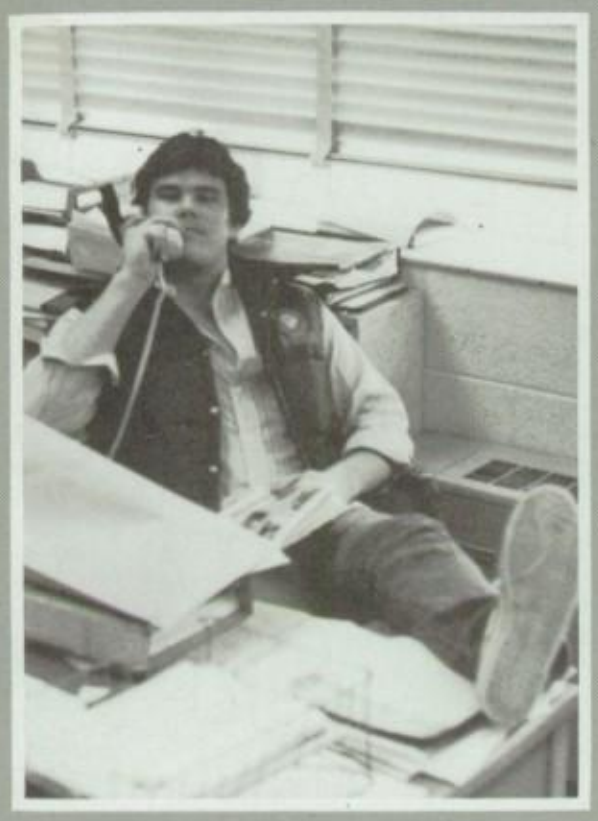
It's The Cardinal Spirit We Sought . . . And In The End, That's The Spirit We Caught!







It's A Good Year We're Ending . . . And Future Dreams We're Beginning!



Editors' Note

As co-editors of the 1981 Cardinal, we experienced the full range of emotions as we worked to complete this edition of our yearbook. After selling ads last spring, we buckled down to solving all the problems that come with the job. With the cooperation of the student body and faculty, our work was easier and at times even fun to do.

Once again we called on Jim Ashmore and the News Leader for help with the photography, and as usual we owe our thanks to Mrs. Carriker and Claude Saleeby, our Josten's representative, for their advice and support. In addition we must thank Mr. Holden and Mr. Summers for helping us arrange picture schedules to meet deadlines. As a token of our appreciation, we promise to give Mr. Summers a franchise for the concession stand we ran in the Hall B bathroom. Only he seemed to understand how much junk food it took to "CATCH THAT CARDINAL SPIRIT."

Sincerely,

Jody A. Brown

Drake,

I don't really know where to start, but I have to say that you have really been a true friend. You have been there when I needed you most and I want to thank you for that. Drake, you are a sweet guy and really do consider you as a close friend. We have become really good friends especially with all of our activities (choir, FBLA, Basketball). I am really going to miss you next year, you won't be around to cheer me up. But you know I'll be at SMC & you can come and visit me, and I'll come you a few of your games next year. Drake I just have to remind you to take care of your "brothers" cause I want be around and I give you permission to hang around with them all the time. You know become one of them. ha!! ha!! That's was a definitely a joke! Thanks for all that you have done for me, you really helped me decide where & if to go to college without even knowing it. I hope you & Kim J. can carry on the choir with your friend that wanted to join! Well, I had better save room for your fans to write [Band] ha! ha!

P.S. How is Betty Ann and the Kids!!!

Love Ya Always
Your "Purple" friend
Jackie

TO.

Drake, I have in Goyed Beer with you this year and I'am glad we are Friends but when you first Came to Sandrun High school I no you did'nt no a lot of people but I have in Goyed Beer with you in 6th Period and I hope to be your friend next year I no it's a lot of people don't like me but I don't worry about things like that because I don't really care about those little thing but Drake I don't no how we really got friends but I'am glad to have a friend like you but it is alright to have a friend and tell them how you feel about yourself but I hope that you will have fun this Summer and I hope you will find a job because I'am hoping the Same thing I guess you think I am make up Everything I put down just remember me and I will remember you and hope to see you next year

Drake,
You've been an O.K buddy. Hope we're just as good friends next year. I know we didn't like each other at first but I'm glad we got to be friends. Have a nice Summer

Love,
Amy Simmers

To a real special friend whom I like alot. Good luck in the future and I hope we stay friends a long time

Love ya,
Donna

To A guy I like a lot and all ways will you are very sweet and nice Love ya Robert A.J.

To Dale Hill,
Lighter, take my advice, marrying me will kill you and take the insurance because they'll kill you and take them, good luck, in the future and have a good summer, your friend,
